The screenshot shows a Moz search results page for the query "phones in school". The browser's address bar shows the URL "google.com/search?q=phones+in+school&scas_esv=3...". The Moz toolbar at the top indicates the search is for "Google US (non-personalized)".

The main content area features a "People also ask" section with the question "Should phones be allowed in school?". Below this question, there is a snippet from urbansitter.com with the text: "Allowing cell phones can help students stay organized, ensuring they don't miss assignments, tests, or important dates. These digital organizational tools not only benefit students during their school years but also prepare them for future responsibilities where digital planning and time management are crucial." An image of students in a classroom is shown to the right of this snippet. Below the snippet, there are two Moz bars for the link, both showing a PA of 29, 0 links, and a DA of 60.

Below the Moz bars, there is a search bar with the text "Search for: Should phones be allowed in school?". Underneath the search bar, there is a list of related questions, each with a dropdown arrow:

- How many schools have phones banned?
- How have phones affected school?
- How can phones help with stress?
- Do students feel safer with phones at school?
- Why are phones a problem in school?
- Should phones be banned in schools?
- What are 5 reasons phones should not be allowed in school?

At the bottom of the "People also ask" section, there is a text input field labeled "Ask a follow up..." and a "Feedback" link.

Below the "People also ask" section, there is a snippet from AP News with the headline "More states press for phone bans in schools" and the sub-headline "Feb 27, 2024 – Nationally, 77% of U.S. schools say they prohibit cellphones at school for non-academic use, according to the National Center for Education...". A Moz bar for this link shows a PA of 60, 1,242 links, and a DA of 92.

The Future

<https://brianwpiper.com/ai-visibility-prompt/>

Replace the items in brackets [] with the specifics for your institution. You may need to focus this prompt down to look for one strategy for one audience depending on the results you get.

You are an expert in higher education marketing and AI search discoverability.

Your task is to analyze how [institution name], [institution URL], appears in AI-generated search results.

Based on the following, generate a list of conversational searches that audiences might run to learn about the school that could be used to test the visibility in ChatGPT around strategic priorities for their target audience.

Strategic Priorities: [insert institution's strategic priorities here or link to URL]

Mission Statement: [insert institution's mission statement here or link to URL]

Primary Audiences: [insert institution's key audiences for reaching strategic priorities]

Examples:

"Is [institution name] a good school for [priority program/field]?"

"What is [institution name] known for?"

"Best colleges for business in [state]."

"Student experience at [institution name]."

"How much does it cost to attend [institution name]?"

Run these conversational searches in ChatGPT.

For each, capture whether the institution appears in the AI-generated results.

Provide a narrative summary that answers:

Where and how does the institution appear across AI platforms?

What information (facts, claims, rankings, or highlights) do the AI results display?

What links, if any, are included (official site, third-party rankings, Wikipedia, etc.)?

How well does this representation align with the institution's strategic priorities, mission, and key audiences?

What gaps or risks are present in the current AI search presence? (e.g., outdated info, missing strengths, unfavorable comparisons)

Output a single narrative summary, connecting the institution's visibility back to its mission and strategic goals, and highlighting areas where content or visibility could be improved.
